

FILIP CRISTIAN PISLARU

London, United Kingdom · filip.cristian.pislaru@gmail.com

EDUCATION

2026–2027 (expected)	LONDON SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS AND POLITICAL SCIENCE MSc Economics	London, UK
2023–2026	BOCCONI UNIVERSITY BSc International Economics — GPA 28.7/30 • Thesis: “Inter-Cohort Migration Competition: Effects on Labor Markets and Political Attitudes at the Regional EU Level” — supervised by Prof. Tito Boeri (Head of Department of Economics). • Built a EU-level panel using Eurostat regional data (2000-2024) and European Social Survey attitudinal observations; analyzed the impact of migration flows on already-present migrants to contribute to future immigration policy-making; estimated two-way fixed-effects models with region-clustered errors and robustness checks in Stata.	Milan, Italy

RESEARCH & PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Feb. 2025– Feb. 2026	BOCCONI UNIVERSITY — PROF. MATTHIAS RODEMEIER Research Assistant, Environmental & Behavioral Economics • Supported empirical research on environmental decision-making experiments by building reproducible Stata workflows for data cleaning, descriptive analysis, tables and visualizations used in current academic work. • Adapted and deployed an AI-assisted survey platform (LLM interface integrated with Qualtrics and AWS) for live behavioral economics experiments, authoring the conversational-interview logic used in data collection. • Contributed literature reviews and manuscript feedback supporting the professor's research and peer-review work.	Milan, Italy
Jul.–Aug. 2025	NATIONAL BANK OF ROMANIA Research Intern, Macroeconomic Modeling & Forecasting Division • Selected as one of 25 interns nationwide; conducted an independent empirical policy study on minimum wage effects in Central and Eastern Europe. • Built and harmonized a 25-year regional Eurostat panel covering five countries and 944 observations; estimated fixed-effects models with clustered errors and robustness specifications in Stata. • Wrote the final research report and presented findings to economists in the division after several rounds of technical feedback, aiding the Forecasting Division in forming regional macroeconomic policy assessments.	Bucharest, Romania
Feb.–Jun. 2025	BOCCONI UNIVERSITY — PROF. JAN BAKKER Research Assistant, International & Urban Economics • Conducted systematic literature reviews for a paper related to transportation infrastructure and urban development, synthesizing empirical findings and methodologies to support academic research. • Constructed a structured database from a systematic review of medical journals across Africa and the Middle East documenting antibiotic and multi-drug resistance; synthesized evidence on how resistance affects mortality and disease incidence in the regions.	Milan, Italy

LEADERSHIP & ACTIVITIES

Sep. 2023– Jan. 2026	BOCCONI ECONOMICS STUDENTS ASSOCIATION Head of Research • Led a 30-member research division, reviewing ~20–30 student research articles annually and providing editorial feedback for the internal magazine. • Organized and chaired monthly research seminars; authored articles on labor economics and political economy; contributed within a special research division to an annotated review of digital Central Bank currencies.
Sep. 2023– Sep. 2025	BOCCONI DEBATE CLUB Member • Competed in British Parliamentary debating tournaments, developing public speaking, structured argumentation and policy-relevant communication skills. • Advised new members on debate techniques and required skills; organized internal rounds of debating for members, aimed at preparing them for competitions.

AWARDS & ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENTS

Apr. 2026	UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO ECONOMETRIC GAME — International finalist • Selected among the top 20 of ~50 international teams; Co-authored a synthetic-control study of the effect of the 2014 Ukraine conflict on total fertility, leveraging World Bank development indicators to construct a 'synthetic Ukraine' and provide a causal assessment of the post-2014 demographic shifts; Validated the findings with in-space placebo inference in R.
Sep. 2023	WORLD NOVICE DEBATING CHAMPIONSHIP — Runner-up (~50 international participants)
Sep. 2023	BOCCONI INTERNATIONAL AWARD — Merit scholarship (50% tuition) over all 3 years of study

SKILLS & LANGUAGES

Technical: Stata, Python, R, MATLAB, LaTeX, Qualtrics
Languages: Romanian (native), English (C2), French (B2), Italian (B1)